

Maribor, 6 November 2024

Dear partners of Alma Mater Europaea University,

In the year 2024, we've reached a milestone in our development and finally became a fully accredited university. Therefore, after a few years without international staff gatherings, we want to reinstate our annual

AMEU INTERNATIONAL STAFF WEEK

Staff week will take place between 10-14 March 2025, ahead of the annual conference It's About People. We are pleased to invite you to a week of interesting debates and lectures around the themes:

“Social and Technological Resilience for Health and Sustainable Development”.

The purpose of the week is not only to invite your teaching staff to share their knowledge with our students, but also to bring together the RDI staff from different fields, giving the unique opportunity to build concrete and true multiprofessional cooperation across different disciplines. We welcome you to share your expertise, to plan and create new initiatives with the AMEU RDI and Projects team and the other participants of the week. Not to mention the exciting sightseeing programs for networking and fun (Maribor, a town surrounded by wine hills and wine cellars, was after all voted Top3 European destinations and No.1 European Culinary destination this year).

Check-out the attached programme and sign up. We look forward to hosting you in Maribor. Please register until December 15, 2024. <https://1ka.arnes.si/a/81332f61>

Contribution of participants: 75€ (cover both lunches, social evening and the sightseeing programme).

Kind regards from the International office,
